Happy Earth Day for Everyday!

Earth Day Mixup

*I was telling my friend about Earth Day
She heard me wrong and thought I said "birthday"*

*She said she would rush down to the mall
And buy a dollhouse or a doll*

*I said she shouldn't buy all that stuff
The landfills are full of trash, enough!*

*Then she knew she'd made a mistake
And she said she would make a birthday cake*

*I cheered about that, I said "hooray!"
So that's how we're celebrating Earth Day*

*Now she's learning about recycling trash
And not only that but she saved her cash!*

beautiful planet every day. This simple poem reminds me to pay attention and listen not only to others, but our environment and ourselves. I wonder what it evokes for you?

What's happening today?

ANZAC Day

ANZAC cookies are a traditional sweet biscuit that originated in Australia and New Zealand during World War I. These oat-based treats were made to send to soldiers at the front because they didn't contain any eggs and could travel long distances without going bad. Typically, we make ANZAC cookies on ANZAC Day. My mother sent me this pic of gluten free cookies! I will have to bake my own until I go home again.

ZuZu's 13th Anniversary!

Paul, ZuZu & I found each other on ANZAC Day back in 2010. It was a beautiful Spring day and Paul & I did not know if we were going to adopt a dog or go for lunch in Sechelt, BC (a 40-minute ferry ride from Metro Vancouver) if the SPCA and ZuZu did not accept us as doggie parents. This pic was at the Sechelt SPCA meeting our fur baby. Thankfully, there was a YES and the rest is history with lots of happy memories since. At 15 years old, we are so lucky she is still with us.

TEDx Whistler Volunteer Opportunity!

I was part of the volunteer team at TEDx Vancouver back in 2014, so I am still on their list. It was a great experience, so I offered to help spread the word with this email message from my friend Marc LeBlanc who is the Director of Volunteers:

TEDxWhistler is returning on Sunday, May 7th, in-person in Whistler at the beautiful Squamish Lil'wat Cultural Centre and we are currently looking for additional people to join our event day volunteer team. We are reaching out to you today in hopes we can add your passion, skills, and experience to our event day team. TEDxWhistler is a 100% volunteer run organization, and our events wouldn't be possible without our dedicated team of volunteers. We hope you can join us!
